COLORED PASSENGERS.—There was a case before Recorder Eneu, of Philadelphia, on Wednesday, wherein was involved the much vexed question of the right of colored persons to ride in street cars. The conductor of a car refused to stop when hailed by two young women, and they resolved to test the matter in the courts. Recorder Eneu held the conductor to bail. It may be of interest to railway officials and employees to know that the provisions of the act of the Legislature on this subject are very explicit, and impose severe penalties, not only for direct infraction of them, but even for endeavors at evasion.

PERTINENT INQUIRY.—The Bedford Inquirer of this week asks the following question: "If the Legislature permits the Southern Pennsylvania Railroad to spend three years in locating and putting under contract the approaches of a small tunnel, by what right do they take away the charter of the Connellsville company for not having finished its road in time?"

The same paper says: "By the free railroad law, falsely so-called, for which Senator Stutzman gave his vote, the survey of a road must be begun within thirty days and completed within six months. The Connellsville and Southern Pennsylvania road has been surveying its route for three years, and don't seem to be done yet."

SCAN-MAG.—The domestic life of the royal family of England does not seem to run very smoothly or happily since the death of Prince Albert. The breach between the Queen and Prince of Wales seems complete. Neither he, nor his cousin of Cambridge, nor his cousin of Cambridge's sister's husband, Prince Von Teck, would have anything to do with the marriage of the Princess Helena with Prince Christian of Augustenberg, and Victoria had herself to give away her daughter. These Guelphs have always, somehow or other, from time immemorial, had a pleasant habit of quarreling among themselves.

Religious Intelligence.

CALL FROM TRINITY CHURCH (N. Y.) TO A PITTSBURGH CLERGYMAN.—We learn that the Rev. Cornelius E. Swope, D. D., rector of Trinity (P. E.) Church, in this city, has just received a unanimous call from Trinity Church in New York, to become an assistant minister in that parish, in charge of Trinity Chapel, in West Twenty-sixth street, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the recent election of the Rev. Dr. Neeley to the Bishopric of Maine. It is understood that the Rev. Dr. Dix, rector of Trinity has written to Dr. Swope urging him to accept the position, but the latter has not yet signified his purpose in regard to the matter.

INFORMATION WANTED.—An anonymous request for prayer was read at the noonday prayer meeting, in the First Presbyterian Church, Beaver street, Allegheny, on Saturday, 23d inst., in behalf of two children, orphaned by the recent death of their mother, the sharpest pang of her dying hour having been from the consciousness of leaving them to the cold charities and deceitful temptations of a wicked world. Earnest prayers were made in their behalf, and seem to have been answered, by a lady's asking, after the dismission, for the children's names and residences, and volunteering to provide for them. The sender of the request for prayer will please give the desired information to Oliver McClintock, President, or Alexander B. Riggs, Secretary, Young Men's Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—At the Central Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Jacobus's,) twenty-eight persons were received on Sabbath morning last, twenty-five of whom were on confession of Christ, all of them adults, and five of them baptized.

MINISTER STATIONED.—Rev. J. W. McGregor, transferred from the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church to the Cincinnati Conference, has been stationed at Mt. Auburn, Cincinnati.

METHODIST REVIVAL.—The M. E. Church at Mercer, Pa., under the pastorate of Rev. O. G. McIntire, has been enjoying one of the most precious revivals ever witnessed in that place. During the meeting one hundred and ten united with the Church. Of these fifty were heads of families, a few children, and the remainder young ladies and young men. The revival influence has spread from this meeting all through the town. The members have just finished paying for a fine Centenary Parsonage, estimated with the lot upon which it stands at $4,000. They are getting subscriptions to make such repairs upon the Church edifice as will render it a first class building.

PASTORAL DONATION.—The young men connected with the Methodist church at Sewickley, recently made a donation to their retiring pastor, Rev. Wm. H. Locke, of a purse of one hundred dollars. Mr. Locke was also the recipient of several handsome and substantial presents from other members of his congregation, before retiring from his pastoral charge.

A New York special says that C. A. Dana's new evening paper is to be issued in May. It will advocate Chief Justice Chase for the Presidency, and is to be only moderately radical.

Dispatches from San Luis Potosi report that there was good reason to believe that Maximilian, finding himself cornered, the Liberal troops being in front and rear of him, and his main dependence for supplies being on the meagre crops in his neighborhood, has offered to surrender. A Washington special says: Parson Brownlow writes that Tennessee will send an entire delegation of reconstructed Union men to Congress, and that the Democrats offer to vote for colored men in Col. Stokes's district to beat him, but the colored men refuse to be used thus.

The Times' special says: General Fullerton, in his testimony before the Judiciary Committee, in connection with the impeachment matters, was called on to answer questions regarding the contents of letters brought to him in Louisiana, from President Johnson, by persons whose land and other confiscated property was restored to them. He explained that the letters did not contain special instructions, but were mere introductions, and that in the restoration of property he has always been governed by the general orders of the Bureau, issued to him by General Howard. Otherwise nothing new was developed.

A New York dispatch of yesterday says: An order for the arrest of Daniel Drew and Fisk & Beldon, brokers, was issued yesterday on the complaint of Joseph B. Judgment is demanded in the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, and a petition is entered to have the defendants render an account of their operations in Erie stock for the last year and a half. Mr. Drew was held to bail in the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and Messrs. Fisk & Beldon fifty thousand dollars each.

The Herald's Richmond correspondent says: In Virginia, reconstruction is rapidly progressing. Even the most fanatical of ex-rebels express themselves anxious to co-operate with General Schofield. The labor system will probably develope itself the coming year, as in previous years when it proved decidedly unsatisfactory the negroes were only concerned about their newly acquired liberty. An effort will soon be made to induce Major General Sheridan to remove Governor Throckmorton, of Texas. If Throckmorton is removed, and the appointment of a Union man secured, no matter what the desire of the Administration may be, the law requires all officers to take the iron-clad test oath. Throckmorton cannot take it, and there are but few men of prominence in the State who can. Among them are Judge Paschal, Judge Sherwood, and Judge Thomas, all radical Unionists.

WASHINGTON, March 29, 1867.

Adjournment.

The question of the final adjournment of Congress has again occupied both branches of that body nearly all day, and at last resulted in a conclusion to adjourn from to-morrow at noon until Wednesday, the third of July, when, if a quorum be present, business is to proceeded with. The struggle in both houses on this question seem to be without precedent. A conference committee appointed specially to reconcile the disagreement between the two houses met to-day, and after a long conference, reported that they were unable to agree. This opened the whole question again to animated debate in each house. In the Senate a resolution was prepared, but not offered, certifying to the President that a disagreement on adjournment had arisen, and that he could avail himself of his constitutional privilege to prorogue the Congress. This was obviated, however, by the final adoption of a new resolution which was sent to the House, where a hot discussion was going on on the same subject. The arrival of the Senate resolution afforded an opportunity for the House to vote at once, and under the leadership of Mr. Bingham, the Senate resolution was agreed to under the operation of the previous question, by a vote of 53 to 45, being but few votes over a quorum. There was considerable confusion and excitement preceding this vote.

The Impeachment Question.

The House during the afternoon had an excited debate on the impeachment question, ending with the passage or a resolution requesting the Judiciary Committee to make report on impeachment on the reassembling of Congress. Mr. Butler charged that the President had pardoned one hundred and ninety-three deserters, so that they could vote the Democratic ticket in West Virginia, and had restored to them pay amounting to seventy thousand dollars. Mr. Marshall, of Illinois, a member of the Judiciary Committee, intimated that there was another side to the story, which after all did not seem to create much of a sensation. It came out during debate that the Judiciary Committee would not resume its sessions till May. Thad. Stevens said that the course the committee were pursuing would lead to no result, for which language he was severely denounced by Mr. Woodbridge, a member of the committee.

Ohio and Indiana War Claims.

The Senate bill to settle the Ohio and Indiana war claims passed the House to-day, and was approved by the President to-night. The first section provides that the President shall immediately appoint three commissioners who are not residents of Indiana or Ohio, whose duty it shall be to ascertain the amount of moneys expended by Indiana and Ohio in enrolling, equipping, subsisting, transporting and paying such State forces as were called into service in said States since the first day of January, 1862, to act in concert with the forces of the United States in the suppression of the rebellion. The second section provides that the Commissioners appointed shall proceed, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War, at once to examine all items of expenditure made by the State for the purposes named, allowing only for disbursements made, and amounts assumed by the States for enrolling, equipping, subsisting, transporting and paying such troops as were called into service by the Government, at the request of the United States Department Commander, commanding the district in which Indiana or Ohio may at the time have been included, or by express order, consent or concurrence of such commander, or which may have been employed or used in suppressing the rebellion in said State. No allowance is to be made for any troops who did not perform actual military service in full concert and co-operation with the authority of the United States, and subject to their orders. The third and fourth section directs that in the adjustment of accounts, the commissioners shall not allow for any expenditures or compensation for service at a rate greater than was at the time authorized by the laws of the United States and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of War in similar cases. It is provided in the fifth section that as soon as the commissioners shall have made up the account and ascertained the balance, they shall make written report, showing the different items of expenditure to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall cause the same to be examined by the proper accounting officers, who are to audit the accounts as in ordinary cases, and if it should appear that any sum remains due to the State, the Secretary of the Treasury is to draw his warrant for the sum, payable to the Governor of the State, and deliver it to him. The sixth section provides that the Commissioners shall, before proceeding to the discharge of their duties, be sworn that they will carefully examine the accounts existing between the United States and the States of Indiana and Ohio, and that they will to the best of their ability make a just, true and impartial statement thereof. For their services they are to receive such compensation as may be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, not exceeding ten dollars per day for each commissioner. The seventh section appropriates a sufficient sum to carry the act into effect.

The Pocket Veto.

It seems to be agreed to-night that two bills will be lost by what is known as the pocket veto—one which suspends the act paying loyal owners of slaves who enlisted them in the Union army, and the other a bill to distribute ten thousand stand of arms to Tennessee.

Trial of Jeff Davis.

The case of Jeff Davis has assumed a new phase. Judge Underwood was in town to-day, conferring with Chief Justice Chase, and the former remarked afterwards that it was more than probable that the trial would be had in May next, before the United States District Court, sitting in Richmond.

Negro Suffrage.

Some considerable importance was attached to a debate in the Senate to-day, wherein it was maintained by two Senators that Congress could enforce negro suffrage in any Northern State by virtue of the second section of the Constitutional Amendment, abolishing slavery. A bill for that purpose is already pending in that body.

Extra Session of the Senate.

The President has prepared a proclamation convening an extra session of the Senate for the transaction of executive business. There are over two hundred nominations now pending in that body, and a large number to be sent in.

Reconstruction Supplement.

The commanders of military districts in the South are being supplied with ratified official copies of the supplemental reconstruction act, under which registers of elections are to be appointed and State conventions to be called.

Cabinet Meeting.

There was a protracted Cabinet meeting to-day, and all office-seekers were excluded from the Executive Mansion.

Impeachment Petitions.

Several memorials of citizens of Schuylkill county, Pa., were presented in the House to-day praying that the President be at once impeached. They were properly referred.

Death of a Senator.

Senator George Read Riddle, of Delaware, died here to-night, after several weeks' severe illness.

Improving Mouth of the Mississippi.

The President to-night signed the following act: That the Secretary of War be authorized, on the recommendation of the Engineer Department, to build and operate two dredge boats, for the purpose of deepening and keeping open the channel of one or more of the passes at the mouth of the Mississippi, and to expend for that purpose so much as may be necessary of the appropriations for the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi river, provided for in the act making appropriations for the repair, preservation and completion of certain public works heretofore commenced under the authority of law, and for other purposes, approved March 2, 1867.

ADJOURNMENT.

Both Houses of Congress will meet at ten o'clock to-morrow morning, in order to close up business by noon, at which time a recess will be taken till July.

MARSHAL OF SUPREME COURT.

There seems to be doubt whether the Supreme Court, which resumes its sessions next Monday, will appoint R. C. Parsons, of Cleveland, Marshal of the Court under the law recently passed.

NOMINATION.

The President has nominated to the Senate General Wauss, of Massachusetts, as Marshal of that State.

IMPEACHMENT.

In the debate in the House, Mr. Woodbridge alluded to a former remark of Mr. Blaine that the action of the Judiciary Committee on impeachment was generally considered a farce, saying the committee had made an arrangement if the House adjourned now to come together about the 1st of May and continue the investigation. It was to be hoped by everybody that nothing would appear that would render it necessary to impeach the President, but if a state of facts should appear that would render it proper, the Judiciary Committee would not shrink from the responsibility, but would recommend a bill of impeachment that was a duty which they would be very willing to be rid of; but they would candidly, fairly, and without prejudice, examine the question, and report the convictions of their deliberate judgment.

Fernando Wood made some remarks against impeachment, for which there was not a shadow of proof.

Mr. Butler supported the idea of impeachment by stating that an important point of evidence had been laid before that Committee. The President had for political reasons alone pardoned one hundred and ninety-three deserters from a West Virginia regiment, in order that they might vote for the Democratic candidate for Congress. He himself supplied the testimony. He added, the result of this pardon of a batch of deserters was to entitle them to claims to the amount of $75,000, which would otherwise have been forfeited to the National Asylum for soldiers. He also states that Colonel Florence had received $1,000 for his service as intermediate in that matter.

Mr. Marshal said it was not proper to speak of what had occurred in Committee, but if all the facts could be laid before them, the statements of Butler were unauthorized and brought before the House in a manner improper and discreditable.

TO JOIN HIS REGIMENT.

Brevet Major General A. Mc. McCook, of the 26th infantry, has been relieved of his present duty and ordered to join his regiment.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Senate to-day confirmed Assessor of Internal Revenue—Richardson L. Wright, Fifth District, Illinois. Collector of Internal Revenue—M. M. Kellogg, Fifth District, Illinois. Surgeon General—H. R. Safford, Nevada.

INDIAN INTERVIEWS.

Mr. Bogy, late Commissioner of Indian Affairs, acting for the Government, has recently had important interviews with the Yancton Sioux, Sauk Sioux, Winnebago and Omaha tribes of Indians, having in view further provision for their comfort and welfare without cost to the Government beyond the present appropriation for those tribes under treaty stipulations. A favorite idea is to provide for them out of this fund a sufficient quantity of cattle, so that they may begin to raise stock and abandon the chase. The Indians, it is thought, will adopt this mode of life very readily, and as the trial can be made without any expense to the Government, it is deemed worthy of being put in practical operation.

Special Scientific Brevities.

Dr. Sterry Hunt, F. R. S., says: The revelations of the spectroscope demonstrate that the same chemical elements are common to the earth, the sun, and the fartherest stars, and that matter exists throughout space as luminous gas (nebulæ), and condensed into luminous suns and non-luminous planets, three conditions, through which, according to the nebular hypothesis, all matter must pass in the process of condensation. There are potent arguments in favor of this hypothesis, which is supported by so many astronomical reasons, and which supposes that not only the bodies of the solar system, but all those which astronomy makes known to us, had a common origin from a vaporous mass which once filled immensity.

Volcanic eruptions have their seat, not in the original nucleus, which is solid, but in the deeply- buried strata heated by this nucleus, and are no more than pustules or cutaneous eruptions of the earth's surface. Active volcanoes are only met with in or near regions where the accumulation of sedimentary rocks has been great in comparatively recent geological periods that is to say, where there are great thicknesses of newer secondary or tertiary rocks. Hence their absence from eastern America, and their occurrence along its western coast. As by the chemical action of heat, the deeply buried strata are exhausted, volcanoes become extinct.—Ibid.

The conlusions as to the solidity of the earth's centre, deduced from chemical and physical considerations, are further supported by the astronomical calculations of William Hopkins on the phenomena of procession and nutation, those of Thompson on the tides, and those of Pratt on the pressure of mountain masses on the earth's surface, all of which conduce to the concluson that the earth, if not solid to the centre, must have a solid crust two thousand miles or more in thickness. The heat of the mass beneath the cooled surface is still nearly that at which the matter congealed; the loss of heat by radiation now proceeds very slowly.—Ibid.

Internal heat, slowly conducted upwards, alters, crystalizes and matamorphoses the sedimentary rocks, and with the aid of water everywhere diffused, gives rise to a soft and pasty layer, upon which the solid upper strata repose. From this softened layer have come the eruptive and scotic rocks which are portions of these unlike sedimentary beds, displaced and forced upward through fissures. Many of these beds are of such mixed compositions as to yield, by their fusion, great volumes of various gases, which, finding vent, together with the fused rocks or lavas, give rise to volcanic phenomena.—Ibid.

Local Bills and Remonstrances---Lobby Committees --- Consolidation --- Queer Economy---Allegheny County Delegation---Senate Caucus---Registration--Schuylkill County Troubles--Bills Relating Thereto--Miss Dix--Appropriation for Gettysburg.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

HARRISBURG, March 28, 1867.

LOCAL BILLS AND REMONSTRANCES.

Mr. McKee has on hand certain local matters which will soon be in possession of the House. Act to incorporate the Triumph Oil Pipe Transportation Company. A bill with a similar title has been in committee for some time, and this bill is designed to obviate certain objections made to it. Petitions numerously signed of inhabitants of Pittsburgh, praying for the division of the city into police districts. Petition of inhabitants of Allegheny county praying for the passage of a law authorizing the construction of a State road from the Freeport and Bakerstown road in Allegheny county to the Freeport and Saxonburgh road in Butler county. Remonstrance of inhabitants of Lower St. Clair township, Allegheny county, against the passage of a law authorizing the erection of a borough out of a portion of said township. Remonstrance of inhabitants of the village of Bloomfield, Liberty township, Allegheny county, against the passage of a law authorizing the annexation of the said village to the borough of Lawrenceville, in said county. An act to authorize an increase of taxes for borough purposes in the borough of Temperanceville in the county of Allegheny.

LOBBY COMMITTEES AGAINST CONSOLIDATION.

A number of persons—a committee appointed by the Allegheny Councils—are here to remonstrate against the passage of any act of consolidation of the two cities of Allegheny and Pittsburgh. Printed copies of resolutions of remonstrance passed by the Allegheny Councils are being scattered thick as leaves in Vallambrosa's vale. These Bombastes Furioses over the river have, it seems, resolved "that any member of our State Senate or Legislature that votes for the said consolidation, will thereby forfeit our confidence and esteem." This lobby committee are also charged with the Pickwickian joke of calling on the Governor and urging him, that should such a bill be passed, to veto the same, and to assure him that he will receive the heartfelt thanks of the city that gave him the largest majority in proportion to its vote of any city in the State. This is decidedly a "soft" way of putting the thing to the Governor—the old argumentum ad personam. While the committee are with his Excellency, it would be eminently proper that they should mention the fact that the consolidation bill, as it will come before the Senate, provides a submission clause by which the electors of the localities to be affected are to have the right to determine by ballot, their pleasure in the premises. If a majority desire consolidation, why should the local pride of Allegheny be allowed to stand in the way? If they do not, no harm can come of authorizing the submission. But my "mission" is to show how things stand in presenti—to give the abstract and brief chronicle of events—and in discharge of that duty I present here a synopsis of the points made in the official corporate remonstrance, now in the hands of Senator Graham, and signed under the city seal by John Morrison, Mayor, and James McBrier, President Select Council, and George D. Riddle. 1. The change has not been asked for. 2. A majority of those to be affected are opposed to it. 3. It will increase taxation without any corresponding benefit. 4. Allegheny has a nice City Hall, and don't want to be compelled to travel over the river to another one. 5. Allegheny has nice water works, (no mention of their nice commons and hay scales,) and doesn't want to abandon them, nor to be obliged to pay ten mills on the dollar to support Pittsburgh's inflated ideas of a City Hall, which is to cost $500,000. 6. The citizens of Allegheny have never seen the proposed bill. 7. Allegheny city assets are worth millions more than their indebtedness, which (they say) is not the case with Pittsburgh. 8. Because the Allegheny river runs between the two cities.

I am requested by a certain representative from Allegheny county further to state that there has never been any consultation of the delegation, and that a majority of them are opposed to its passage. If the latter statement be true, I desire to say, par parenthesis, that the fact is not creditable to their common sense. In regard to the allegation that the bill as reported has not been seen generally, it is due to Senator Bigham to say that his great anxiety in getting the bill into the printer's hands was for the purpose of mailing early copies to Allegheny county, in order that all parties might have an opportunity to examine it. The insinuation that any underhanded work is designed or desired is wholly without foundation in fact.

QUEER ECONOMY.

In revising the general appropriation bill in Committee of the Whole, the House, on second reading struck out the appropriations for paying Commissioners of Sinking Fund, and the fifteen thousand dollars appropriation for continuing the work on the new State Library Room, recommended by the Ways and Means. There was also any amount of ridiculous higgling about the pay of petty officials. But when the attention of the House was, some weeks since called by resolution, to the fact the State could easily save considerably over $100,000 per year by requiring,

THE STATE TREASURER

To put his monthly balances averaging $2,700,000 at interest for the State's benefit, the majority of the Republicans would not support the resolution. By way of explaining this matter, the State Treasurer at the time promised the Legislature a report as to where the State funds were deposited, and how they were used, a report which he has not made.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY DELEGATION.

It was prematurely announced in a Pittsburgh daily, not long since, that the consolidation bill had passed the Senate, and all your papers appear to suffer occasionally from the carelessness of special telegrams. In this way the Allegheny county members are often misrepresented. They complain that they are frequently in receipt of letters, censuring them for permitting what has never occurred, and charging them, upon the idlest rumors, with purposes never entertained. Being under no obligations to any "set" in this Legislature, the writer speaks with entire candor, and some means of knowing, in expressing his belief that the Allegheny county members are anxious to respect the wishes of their constituencies so far as those wishes can be determined. They are always in their seats, diligent in their attention to the business of the Legislature, especially such as are of local importance and as near within Hamlet's exceptional definition of honesty as any other delegation. "To be honest, Horatio, as the world goes, is to be one man picked out of ten thousand." Speaking for himself only, he wishes that some of them were more demonstrative and combative—more prominent and influential as floor members. Allegheny county, the center of a large population, and great wealth, and the head of western business interests, should lead in all fights for justice to the western section.

SENATE CAUCUS—REGISTRATION.

The Republican members of the Senate held a protracted caucus this morning to consider what shape should be given to the registration bill, a synopsis of which was furnished the COMMERCIAL yesterday. The conclusion was, that if the Democrats favored the bill it should be made general in its operations; if not, that it should be restricted to counties where there is a present special need of it. The bill passed to a third reading in the Senate, this afternoon, the Democrats fighting shy.

THE SCHUYLKILL COUNTY TROUBLES.

The terrible social demoralization now prevading in the Schuylkill region, is likely to lead to several general laws of an important and wholesome character. It has been the inspiration of the registration law, already explained; a new jury bill, and a police bill. In regard to the

there is a Conference Committee on the question of difference between the Senate and House, as to whether the Sheriffs of the several counties shall be members of the jury commissioners. The House bill provides for two commissioners to be elected in each county, biennially by the; people who shall act in conjunction with the Sheriff in drawing the list of jurors. The Senate struck sheriffs out. If the House provision is retained, the effect politically, would be to give two-thirds of the jury commissioners to the Democrats or Republicans, according to their party supremacy in counties severally.

MINING AND MANUFACTURING—POLICE FORCES.

It is proposed to suppress the disorders in Schuylkill county, and other localities, by the passage of two bills, both of which have been reported in the Senate. Senator Shomaker's bill authorizes all incorporated companies, associations, firms or individuals engaged in mining or transporting coal, in making iron, or manufacturing in this Commonwealth, to employ a police force, to be formed, established and compensated in the same manner, having the same powers, subject to the same restrictions, and under the same regulations, as the police force of Railroad Companies, now authorized by the general act of 28th February, 1865, "An act to empower railroad companies to employ police forces."

MARSHALS OF POLICE.

Senator McConaughy's bill provides that the Governor may, on the petition of one hundred citizens of any county in the mining regions of this State, with other satisfactory proofs, showing that the local authorities of such county are inadequate and insufficient for the protection of person, property and life, within said county, or any township or portion thereof, appoint a Marshal of Police, and a sufficient number (not exceeding one hundred) of officers of police to give adequate protection to the persons and property of the inhabitants of said county, such police force to be paid out of the Treasury of said county. For the execution of all criminal process, said Marshal of Police shall have all the powers of a Sheriff, and may summon the posse comitatus, &c. Police officers under the direction of the Marshal, shall have all the powers of Constables. The Governor may make all needful rules for the government of such police, for arming and equipping them, and may detail a sufficient number to act as detectives. Act to continue in force for two years, but the Governor may at any time discharge such portion of said police as he may deem no longer necessary. In the execution of their duties the police may follow offenders into any adjoining county and arrest them wherever found.

It will be seen that should the miners of the bituminous regions become refractory, they may be cared for under the latter act. This bill is a special order for this evening in the Senate.

An expression of Count von Bismark's perfectly characterizes the German mind. He was recently talking to Lord Loftus, the British Embassador, who expressed his astonishment at the large number of particularist elections, (where the member seemed to ignore everything but his own province,) among the population of north Germany. "Does that astonish you?" said Bismark. "If each German was rich enough he would be delighted to pay for a king all to himself."

James Buchanan.

One hundred and six Democrats in this State, most of them prominent politicians, on the 27th of February, tendered an invitation to ex-President James Buchanan to a public dinner in the city of Philadelphia. The sage of Wheatland, after four weeks of consideration, has acknowledged the receipt of the invitation, but declines to attend the feast, from a desire to emulate the example of his Democratic predecessors in the Presidential office of remaining in the retirement of private life. For a crumb of comfort he is thus thankful:

"You have my cordial thanks for your opinion 'that no responsibility for the years of blood and sorrow we have endured' rests on me, who tried, in a moment of terrible exigency, to do my duty under the constitution. Proceeding as this does, from a large number of my fellow-citizens, equal in intelligence, character and patriotism, to any similar number of gentlemen in the State, may I not, with much confidence, indulge the hope that you but anticipate the general sentiment of future times? Under this impression, and always firmly relying on Divine Providence, I have borne with a tranquil and contented spirit all the harsh criticisms which have been published on my official conduct throughout the last unhappy years."

The President is importuned with protests against the official changes in Louisiana by General Sheridan. B. L. Lynch, appointed Attorney General in place of Herron, was the Attorney General of the State under the military control of Butler and Banks; Edward Heath, appointed Mayor in place of Monroe, was Comptroller of the State finances under Banks; and W. W. Howe, appointed District Judge in place of Abell, was Judge Advocate of the military department under Butler, Banks and Canby.

SAYS the Wheeling Register: The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company are now delivering freight shipped over their road at the doors of the consignees in this city. Freights shipped over this road by the "Lightning Express" freight line are carried through on passenger time.

The Debt of the Respective Districts.

Section 52 provides that a committee consisting of three disinterested freeholders of Allegheny county, not residing within the corporate limits of the city, as described in the first section of this act, nor owners of real estate or other taxable property therein, shall be appointed by the the District Court of Allegheny county, who, after being duly sworn by a Judge of said Court to well and faithfully perform all the duties enjoined upon them by this section, shall proceed to perform the duties hereafter stated, namely:

First, To inquire into and ascertain what amount of municipal debts and other liabilities, and of annual interest chargeable thereon, is owing by each of the several cities, boroughs and townships, which are included within the boundaries of the city incorporated by this act.

Second, To inquire into and ascertain what municipal property, real and personal, including lands, lots, public squares, common grounds, wharves or landings, water works, market houses, city halls, poor houses, fire engine houses, and all other public buildings, excepting school houses, is owned or held by each of the cities, boroughs and townships aforesaid; to determine the value thereof, and the average amount of the net annual revenue derived therefrom. In determining the value of such property, the commission shall take into consideration the net revenue derived therefrom, or the amount in cash which would probably be obtained for it if offered for sale at public auction, or both, as it may deem most equitable and just to all parties interested.

Third. The commission shall have power to demand from each and any of the municipal officers of said cities, boroughs and townships, having the custody of books and papers relating to municipal debts or liabilities, or of municipal property, or records relating thereto, or revenue derived therefrom, accurate statements thereof, and it shall be the duty of said minicipal officers to prepare and submit such statements, certifying under oath that the same are correct to the best of their knowledge and belief. The commission may summon any municipal officers, or other persons, to appear before them to testify under oath concerning municipal debts or property, or other matters which it may deem necessary to the proper performance of its duties, and it shall have power to administer oaths to any person so called to appear before them.

Fourth. When the value of the property owned or held by each of the cities, boroughs and townships aforesaid, shall have been determined, the amount owned by each shall then be substracted from the amount of the ascertained indebtedness of each respectively, and the remainder shall be deemed and taken as the amount of the separate indebtedness, owing by each, in excess of the value of property owned and held by each. The excess of separate indebtedness of each city, borough and township, when so determined, shall be compared with the assessed value of taxable property in each respectively, according to the latest valuations of assessors, as the same may appear in the official records of the county commissioners, and the ratio of proportion between said indebtedness and said values of property in cash, shall be determined, and when such proportion shall have been determined the commission shall fix upon and set forth such a rate of special tax, to be separately levied and collected in each of the former cities, boroughs and townships, as shall be sufficient to pay and discharge all the separate debts and liabilities of each in some reasonable and stated period of time, not exceeding in any case a period of twenty years.

Fifth. It shall be the duty of the commission to prepare and to submit to the District Court of Allegheny county, a full report of its proceedings, and a statement in detail of the debts owing, and of the property owned by each of the said cities, boroughs and townships, and of such rates of special tax to be separately levied and collected in each, as they may deem most equitable and just to all parties interested.

SEC. 53. The District Court shall, within ten days after receiving the report of the commission, made in pursuance of the next preceding section, appoint a day, and cause due public notice thereof to be given, when any of the municipal authorities or tax payers, who may be interested in the rate or the apportionment of the special taxation set forth in said report, may appear in court and be heard by council thereon; whereupon, after a due hearing of the parties interested, the court shall determine and decree the rate of special tax which shall thereafter be separately levied on all taxable property, and collected in each of the several cities, boroughs and townships aforesaid, to be applied in paying the interest and the principal of the excess of indebtedness owing at that time by each of said cities, boroughs and townships respectively, and to no other purpose whatever, until the same shall have been fully paid and discharged.

SEC. 54. The city corporation created by this act shall obtain from the district court authenticated copies of the report of the commission made in pursuance of the —— section of this act, and of the decree of the court thereon, within thirty days after said decree is made, and shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, pass an ordinance for carrying the same into effect, according to its full tenor and meaning in all respects, whereby the city corporation shall assume and become liable for all the municipal debts and liabilities of each of the former corporations or townships comprised within its limits, and all rights of property of every kind and description, excepting school houses and lots, which were vested in any of said former corporations or townships, shall thereafter be deemed and held to be vested in the corporation created by this act. No rights or liabilities either in favor of or against either of said corporations existing at the time of this act taking effect, and no suit of any kind shall be in any manner affected by such change, but the same shall stand or progress as if no such change had been made; Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to empower said corporation to sell, mortgage, lease, or in any manner alienate any lands which were held by any of said former corporations as public squares, common grounds or river shore landings, but such lands shall be held for general public use in the same manner as before the passage of this act.

Manager Stuart barely escaped from the fire at the Winter Garden with his life. He had a room in the building, and the dense smoke accumulated so rapidly that he was compelled to fly, leaving his pocket book and watch on a dressing table. Edwin Booth estimates the loss of his costumes (some of which had been worn by his father) at $30,000. At first it was said to be $100,000. Soon it will come down to the real figures, probably about $15,000.

The Daily Commercial

SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1867.

☞ The DAILY COMMERCIAL is circulated in all parts of the State, in Western Virginia, Ohio and the adjacent States, and without comparison, is the best advertising medium in Pittsburgh.

☞ THE COMMERCIAL gives the only complete reports of the local markets published, and is accepted as authority by dealers at home and in all the principal cities.

☞ THE COMMERCIAL solicits local correspondence, giving events of interest, concisely written; also, of improvements, inventions and personal movements.

☞ THE COMMERCIAL is the only paper in Pittsburgh that uses the telegraph freely. Its special dispatches are from correspondents selected for their intelligence and reliability.

THE story about Mrs. DEAN, daughter of Mr. BOKER, the rich New York man, representing her to be in a debased and outcast condition, is contradicted in all its statements, on authority which we have no reason to doubt.

WOLVES are said to be pestering the farmers of Hardy county, W. Va. There are some troublesome beasts of prey, of the genus homo, lurking about these cities, which we would be willing to see swapped off for Harden county wolves, head for head. Yes, we would probably make a profit at two for a wolf.

CHEATING circulars are sent through the country, dated from the "Bible House, New York," soliciting custom and money for various gift enterprises with taking and deceitful names. The name of the Bible House is used to disarm suspicion and to cheat under false colors. The Secretaries of the Bible Societies have published a card, saying that no rooms in the Bible House are rented or used for any such fraudulent purposes.

THE Legislature of Illinois has passed a law making it a high misdemeanor to receive any person into an Insane Asylum as a patient, except on the decision and recommendation of a jury. This legislation has probably been prompted by some cause. The subject is important. Among the various forms assumed by this Protean malady, there are some which it is extremely difficult to detect, and consequently the sanity of some persons is long held in doubt. The denial of it by the patient himself is so common in a class of cases, that it affords no ground for a judgment in any one. And as it is known that interested motives have led to the confinement of some individuals on the charge of insanity when they were not insane, the decision of a jury, prescribed by this law, is a wise and humane requirement.

SAFETY OF PUBLIC ASSEMBLIES.

Although it is rather tardy caution that locks the stable after the horse is stolen, yet we are willing to award the character of wisdom to those who turn the key of their own stables when it is known that a neighbor's has been visited by thieves. And we are glad to learn that our Legislature, as mentioned in their correspondence lately, have been led, in consequence of the recent burning of a theater in New York, to pass a law for the better regulation of places of amusement, and particularly with reference to the safety of persons assembled therein.

Some of the most appalling casualties that have ever occurred, have been occasioned by the conflagration of buildings in which large numbers of people were assembled. And even where only an alarm of fire or other danger occurred in such places, it generally rises to a panic involving fatal consequences, although the cause of the alarm was only imaginary.

The law to which we refer was designed specially for Philadelphia, but by its last section is made applicable also to Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Its principal provisions are these,—that the owners or lessees of places of amusement shall not allow any seats, chairs, or other obstructions to be placed in the aisles or passage ways of such places, that the doors, if they open inwardly, shall be left open and kept open by fastenings during the time when they are occupied by assemblies,—that if they open outwardly, they shall not, while so occupied, be prevented by any fastenings from easy and free opening—that sufficient hose arrangement be provided for the extinguishment of fires.

It will be a subject of congratulation to the public to learn that such a law has been passed by the Legislature. Large assemblies often convene in the halls, theaters and other rooms referred to, in those cities, not only for the purposes of amusement, but for lectures, political meetings, and even for religious services. When they sit there, the next time they visit them for any purpose, they will observe whether the means of egress are sufficient or not, whether the doors open outward or inward, whether they are shut or open, whether the passages and the stairs are crooked and cumbered or the reverse. In short, every person who has the average measure of intere t in the quest on of his own life and safety, will have an eye to these matters, lest he should find himself, in an unexpected moment, to have entered a trap instead of a place of amusement or instruction.

The law, we hope, will be speedily applied in these cities, to some of whose places of public assemblage its application, with reference to doors and the mode of their opening, is particularly needed. Nor can we see why the humane provisions of it should not be applied, as well, to churches, at least to the extent of keeping the aisles clear and having the doors so hung as to open outwardly, or slide sideways.

TRICHINA, OR WHAT?

When we are convinced by occular observation, or by reliable testimony—which is just as good—that there are animals or animalcules whose life can resist a heat of 212 degrees by Fahrenheit's thermometer, a period long enough to cook a ham, we shall hold ourselves ready to supplement our creed by believing in salamanders, whose native element is fire. We have, however, no reason to doubt the correctness of a local item in the Springfield Republican which gives an account of the extreme sickness of six persons, one of whom died, in consequence of partaking of raw ham. Investigations were in progress, the result of which we shall await with interest, to determine whether there was evidence of trichina in the meat, or whether it was diseased in some other way. There is no doubt that the sickness and, in one of the cases, death, were caused by the meat. The circumstances determine that. The persons were all of one family, and ate together, the one who ate the most freely being the one who died. We note the facts. Every one can make his own use of them.

A CENTURY BEHIND.—Delaware, though now scarcely one of the Southern States, is as far behind the age in spirit and feeling as South Carolina itself. According to the Wilmington Commercial, at New Castle, within thirty-five miles of Philadelphia, there is, at least three times a year, active and public use of the whipping post and pillory, pursuant to the laws of the State. Not only are colored men lashed but colored women; and not only they, but white people of both sexes, too. The Commercial says "this spectacle is enjoyed not alone at New Castle, but at Georgetown, in Sussex county, within sight of the residence of Mr. Saulsbury, a Senator of the United States. And not only there, but at Dover, the capital of the State. In that town, where the law-makers of Delaware sit and deliberate, they may almost look out upon the whipping post and see the fall of the lash, while the cries of the unfortunate wretches might penetrate to the ears of the worshippers in the Christian churches of that town."

WAKING UP.—Even the conservative newspaper press of the South is waking from its dream of stagnation to a consciousness of the fact that the surface of society is rippled by a constant succession of new ideas. It has been discussing the question of female suffrage and comes to the conclusion that nothing is more certain than that women will be permitted to vote in less than ten years.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

Several hundred English sparrows have been shipped from Belfast to New York for farmers. This has been rendered necessary by the wanton destruction in some localities of small birds. Almost every small bird is worth a great deal more than what he eats in the way of fruit and grain for his services in destroying insects and grubs.

A bill has passed the New York Assembly making eight hours a legal day's work. But all the legislation in the world cannot regulate the rate of wages.

An act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey went into effect yesterday, prohibiting the whipping of children in the public schools. Did they do anything about the cayenne pepper feature?

It is stated that the prison grounds at Salisbury, North Carolina, are to be planted with cotton the present season.

A big rat hunt in Zanesville, Ohio, last week, resulted in the capture and massacre of twenty-seven hundred of the "varmints" by one party, and twenty-three hundred by the other.

The Utica Observer says Mr. Levi Holcomb, of Rome, recently shot two panthers in John Brown's tract, one of which is the largest ever seen in Utica, measuring 8 feet and 9 inches from tip to tip.

A "befuddled" individual, with more money than brains, went into a jewelry store in Galveston, Texas, lately, bought an elegantly silver-plated cream-jug, put in some pebblestones, tied down the cover, fastened the machine to the tail of a "yaller dog," and sent him yelping down the street.

Ira Bush, a church elder, Sabbath-school superintendent, &c., at Port Jervis, New York, was arrested last Friday for passing counterfeit money. During a recent tour, attending religious meetings in Sullivan county, he had "shoved" a large quantity of ten dollar bills, and was followed and arrested.

In Sedalia, Missouri, on the 23d inst., a youthful rowdy, named Wood, shot and killed a German named Germer, a saloon keeper, because the latter's bar-keeper had refused him liquor. The murderer was arrested and put in jail; and during the night was taken from the custody of the officers by a mob, and hung to a gate-post.

J. S. Lyle went into an African church, in Richmond, Indiana, a few nights ago, and, seizing one of the "sistern" who was undergoing the operation known as "getting religion," shook her energetically, "merely to restore her to a normal condition," as he said. He was prosecuted for assault, but the jury could not agree.

The French iron-clad Couronne foundered during a hurricane in the Gulf of Lyons. Several of the crew perished.

Owing to high winds in the Adriatic, Venice has been inundated to an extent which has never been equaled within the memory of any of the inhabitants. The piazza of San Mark was so flooded that boats and gondolas passed over it, and the space had the appearance of a vast lake.

The journals of Belgium have again opened a subscription for the Pope. The Journal de Bruxelles, the Patrie of Bruges, and the Echo de Namur have collected 80,000f. The Gazette de Liege has received a subscription of 10,000f., the annual interest of which is to go to the maintenance of one zouave.

The San Francisco mint, last year, coined upward of $30,000,000, upon which the actual waste was $563 42, while the legal allowance would be $100,757 50.

English papers are again discussing the question of street railways, and their agitation of the matter has drawn forth a letter from the irrepressible George Francis Train, which has been addressed to the principal corporations in England and the vestries of the metropolitan parishes.

Crossing the Chattahoochee, one beholds, bleaching in the sunshine, the skeletons of those who fell where the contending armies fought for possession of the "Gate City." Many of the intrenchments and fortifications yet stand on both sides of the river, undisturbed. Others, and the graves near them, are being leveled by the plough. With a coolness truly refreshing, the ploughman turns up the bones of the dead and levels the graves of the unknown.

PERSONAL.

—A rumor is going the rounds to the effect that John C. Heenan and Joe Coburn are going to have a ring fight for the pugilistic championship of the United States and ten thousand dollars. It is probably without foundation further than the fact that they had some hard words in a New York saloon, most probably when Coburn was under the influence of seductive beverages.

—Mr. Hackett, the actor, makes proposals for ground on which to build a first-class theater in New York, and the Herald, in which he evidently intends to advertise, publishes the fact on the editorial page, and gives it a first-class half column of editorial notice. The Herald has weakened itself irreparably by the expenditure of an unnecessary amount of thunder on the managers who declined to patronize its columns. Strangely enough those who did so are the only ones who have made any money this season.

—It is said that, in his beautiful residence at Bridgeport, Barnum has no relic or sign of his long life as a showman, except a marble bust of Jenny Lind.

—Theodore Clay, son of Henry Clay, has for over thirty years, been an inmate of the Lunatic Asylum at Lexington, Ky. He became insane from disappointed affection.

—The Princess of Wales is said to be threatened with abcess in the knee joint. The London Morning Post has the following fling at her dissipated and negligent husband. It says:—"The only circumstance which would lead us to doubt the report of Her Royal Highness's condition is that the Prince is constant in his attendance upon the hunt and at theatrical performances."

—Hon. Amasa Sprague, of Rhode Island, elder brother of Senator Sprague, is erecting, on his own estate at Rocky Point, on Narragansett Bay, a building for the accommodation of visitors to the New England Agricultural Fair, with a capacity for 5,000 people. This gentleman is said to be the owner of a stud rivalling that of an English turf hunter. His stables contain 260 horses.

—According to the Friend, (Quaker paper,) Mrs. Cady Stanton is the orator of the age. Her power over an intelligent audience is irresistible. Keen as Phillips, majestic as Sumner, elegant as Curtis, tender and womanly as Lucretia Mott, magnetizing a massive logic with the most etherial graces, her claim to a place among the first of American orators and statesmen is beyond dispute. Her rightful place is in the Senate." Mrs. Stanton's claim to a place among American states-men is good.

Ohio Valley Coal Fields.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

RUSH RUN, OHIO, March 21, 1867.

Thinking that a brief account of a trip to the Ohio river coal fields, lying between Steubenville and Wheeling, might prove interesting to many, I seek the columns of your valuable paper to make known some personal observations. Leaving Pittsburgh by the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad, by the care of our gentlemanly conductor, Mr. Breen, we soon reached the city of Steubenville, and a very few minutes' ride after leaving its depot brought us into immediate contact with substantial evidence of the mining business. At this point, about one-half mile below Stubenville, a vein of the purest desulphuretted coal is found less than two hundred feet below the surface. So pure and of such excellent qualities for smelting purposes is it that iron men, catching the true theory of manufacturing, bring their iron to this boundless and inexhaustible coal field, and build their blast furnaces and rolling mills at the mouth of the coal shaft, and these by the river side and on the railroad successfully compete with all other localities. And as the superior quality of the coal becomes better known, and other advantages hereafter to be alluded to are discovered, so will the section from Steubenville to Wheeling, on both sides of the river, be appreciated and occupied. We have but a moment to give to this point, with its successful working mines, other contemplated shafts soon to be sunk, its fiery coke ovens and its iron mills and furnaces.

We pass down the river, meeting here and there with coal works, mostly in hill veins, as at a Pittsburgh company's works, a short distance above La Grange; and again, some three miles below La Grange, we find works, owned, we believe, by another Pittsburgh company, under the superintendence of Mr. Whitely, of Pittsburgh. These companies find it profitable to work this inferior hill vein as yet, and have not begun to sink shafts. Upon reaching Rush run we make inquiry for and are pointed to the works of the "Rush Run Coal and Iron Company," a few rods from the station and right by the railroad track. Recently this company struck a seven-foot vein of pure desulphuretted coal at the depth of two hundred and sixty-three feet. The thickness of this vein, the quality of the coal and its locality renders the prospects of the company everything they could wish for, and soon they will have every arrangement perfected for carrying on a very extensive business. Already they are preparing to erect iron works, appreciating the magnitude of the treasure that now is subject to their labor and bidding—so easily can it be brought to the surface. This company, composed mostly of Eastern capitalists, have not been slow to perceive the great advantages to be derived in locating their works here, for they have not to contend with—first, the enormous price paid for land in the coal fields above Pittsburgh; the difficulty in shipping in low water; the interruption and expense of slack water, and the greater dangers of bridges, which in late years have proved so destructive to the prospects of coal merchants, by causing the sinking of a fortune in a day. While the coal lands above are held at from ($500) five hundred to ($700) seven hundred dollars per acre, these can be purchased from ($200) two hundred to ($400) four hundred dollars per acre, and a great portion of this lower land is worth from ($100) one hundred to ($150) one hundred and fifty dollars per acre for agricultural purposes, and has brought that amount for years.

A particularly favorable feature of the Rush Run locality, and for a few miles above, is the deep water, rendering shipping always practicable even in the lowest boating stages of the river. The thickness of the vein here is another feature of no mean consideration, yielding an inconsiderable amount per acre, which is of itself truly astonishing to any one making the calculations. And while I would say most of the lower vein of coal is found here, I would by no means forget the surface vein which is worthy of greater attention, which I shall hope to give it in another article, for in this brief sketch the half has not been told of this rich and truly valuable coal region. More anon.

BELLARDO.

A BOUQUET OF BEAUTY.—In one respect at least we can always be sure of keeping up our national character for sensationalism abroad. Even though our statesmen fail and our distinguished diplomatic representatives are not invariably regarded with the awe and respect to which their offices entitle them, we can always console ourselves with the enthusiasm aroused by the unique beauty and dashing grace of the ladies whom we send to accompany them. At the last ball of the carnival season, for instance, given by the Marquis de Moustier, one of the French ministry, they eclipsed all foreign rivalry. Miss Dix was in "Marguerite," and a magnificent "Marguerite" she must have been, with her blond hair and fine person; Mme. Erlanger was in the "Genius of War," and her sister, Miss Rosine Slidell, in "Genius of Peace;" Miss Torrence Vanderbilt, of New York, was in the "First Empire;" Miss Lillie Hitchcock, of California, in "Sport," perhaps the most successful travesty of the occasion; Miss Beckwith, of New York, in "Greek Slave," also a great success; Mrs. Thompson, of Washington, in "Ireland;" her sister, Miss Parnell, in "Shooting Star;" Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, of New York, and her daughter; in costumes which words are inadequate to describe; Miss Clementine Smith, of New York, in "Red Riding Hood;" and Mlle. du Hamel, of Havana, in "Lightning." No wonder such an array of personal loveliness and gorgeous variety of costume ravished all beholders.

...ME TO SEEK THE LORD.

It is time to seek the Lord.—Hosea 10:12.

Hosea lived after the division of the Jewish Kingdom, and dwelt and labored in Israel. He was contemporary with Isaiah, the great prophet of Judea, and his life, of about sixty years, extended through the reigns of six or seven of the last of the Israelitish Kings. The idolatry which had commenced with their first Sovereign and continued for an hundred and fifty years, had diffused every form of vice among the people. Depravity pervaded society; anarchy seized upon the government, and the nation was in the last stages of decay. Their wickedness provoked the wrath of God, and their weakness invited attacks from their neighbors. In the midst of their perplexities and dangers they looked for help, sometimes to Assyria, sometimes to Egypt, always relying on human sympathy and human expedient. The prophet declaims with the utmost vehemence against their crimes, and, showing the inadequacy of all human help in their desperate straits, exclaims, "It is time to seek the Lord." As though he said, "O, Israel, of what folly, of what madness are you guilty! You have broken your covenant with Jehovah, abandoned His worship, filled the land with idols; your kings are murderers, your princes profligates, your priests corrupters of the people, and the whole nation given up to the most shameful vices. And now, when these crimes bring down the divine displeasure, you only remove the further from your rightful sovereign, and cry the more importunately for human help. But what has it availed you? Have you gotten help from Assyria? No. Have you gotten help from Egypt? No. Have you gotten help from any human source? No. Will you ever get help from such a source? No Then why not cease such folly and turn, without further delay, to that God whom you so shamefully abandoned, and whom you have so deeply and so long insulted, and who, as a long line of prophets and the whole history of your race show, is alone able to deliver you from your thronging danger? 'It is time,' unless reason be clean gone, to turn away from all human help and seek help from Jehovah."

And what was true in regard to the Kingdom of Israel in the days of Hosea is true of unconverted men here to-day. You too, my dear hearers, have turned away from God; you too are in danger, of not a temporal, but an external destruction; you too have been wont, but without success, to look to others for help, and now we come to you, and, adopting the language of the prophet, say, "It is time to seek the Lord." Yes, if you would not be left in your sin, and left in your misery, and left to go down to eternal death, you must seek the Lord.

Let us consider:

1. The prophet's decision, "It is time to seek the Lord."

2. The grounds on which this decision is based.

1. The decision itself, "It is time to seek the Lord."

It must be confessed that many differ from the Old Hebrew seer. One says it is time to make a fortune; another, it is time to make a reputation; a third, it is time to secure pleasure. I must gain riches, for it has come to be the fashion to esteem a man in proportion to his wealth; I must gain place, for what does a man amount to unless he has power; I must secure pleasure, for what is life, if it affords no enjoyment? To these things then—things which belong wholly to this world, things which are by no means the noblest in themselves, all the powers and energies of most men are devoted, and to them every moment of time is appropriated. To ask such men to give up the pursuit of these things for the pursuit of spiritual things; to abandon the service of the world for the service of God; even to give any less attention to the things of this life, that they may economize time to give some attention to the things of eternity, is to ask them to turn fanatics, if not madmen. No, no. "Let us live," say they, "while we live." "Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die." Time is given us, it is true, but it is to seek our own ends: to gather treasures; to wreathe chaplets of honor for our brows; to press the cup of pleasure to our lips.

To a very different conclusion, however, did Hosea come. He said, "It is time to seek the Lord."

1. It is high time.

This was true of the Jews. They had broken their covenant with God; abandoned his worship; resorted to idolatry and the practice of all its vices and abominations. As a consequence of these crimes the most terrible calamities came upon them. Famine smote them; pestilence swept through their land; the sword was unsheathed against them. They were threatened by Judah, then they trusted in their horses and chariots; they were threatened by Assyria, then they sought help from Egypt; they were threatened by Egypt, then they sought help from Assyria. Thus they acted from reign to reign, from dynasty to dynasty, from generation to generation, for an hundred and fifty years. But it availed them nothing. They grew weaker and weaker. Their power was curtailed, their resources diminished, their spirits depressed, and, as a nation, they were brought to the very verge of destruction. In this crisis the prophet again appeared, and in his own curt, abrupt, fiery, fearless tones exclaimed, "Hear ye this, O priests; and hearken ye, House of Israel; and give ear, O House of the King," having looked in vain for succor to every other source, "now it is time to seek the Lord."

And just thus it is with impenitent sinners to-day. You, too, have broken your covenant with God. You have rebelled against Him, you have broken His laws, grieved His Spirit, rejected the offers of His grace, trampled on the blood of His Son. These sins have kindled against you the Divine displeasure. The vials of God's wrath are ready to be poured out upon you; you are in danger of eternal death. In another week, yea, in another day, you may be plunged into a gulf of endless despair. I know many of you do not believe this, but it is, nevertheless, true. I know you are saying peace, peace, when the wrath of God abideth on you. I know you hope all will be well at last, but the odds are greatly against you. And now, in the midst of all these dangers,—dangers which threaten not your life, or wealth, or fortune, or happiness, but your undying soul,—you have never once looked for help to God. You may have looked to your morality, your prayers, your pastor, the Church for help, agents which cannot help you, but you have never looked to God, who can. Now, is it not high time to seek the Lord? Have you not neglected Him and neglected your own safety long enough? What is to be gained by still deferring this necessary work? Nothing is to be gained but much may be lost; ah! yes, everything may be lost. Then give attention to this matter without further delay, for "it is high time to seek the Lord."

2. It is the best time.

Not, possibly, the best time you have ever had, but the best time you now have or will hereafter have. This would be true if there were no special interest on the subject of religion now in our midst, but under existing circumstances it is emphatically true. Never before was there here such a state of religious interest. The whole city is moved. Many churches have been visited by a precious revival; many persons have been brought to the Savior—perhaps, some of your own relations or friends—those who dwell with you in the same house, labor with you in the same office or shop, sit with you in the same pew. The work has been specially powerful among the young men, and you, many, who very recently were leaders of fashion and ringleaders in folly and sin, using in great public meetings to tell what God has done for their souls, and leading the devotions of crowded congregations in the worship of God. The subject of religion is on every tongue, and when the question is asked, "What's the news?" the answer is not in relation to victories or defeats, not in relation to the doings of Congress or the prospects of trade, so much as to who has embraced and confessed Christ, and the progress of revival in this and that and the other church. The whole community is pervaded with a religious influence; the subject is in every person's thoughts, and you yourself, perhaps, have been induced to give more attention to the matters of religion than you ever did before.

It is not, then, a very favorable time, nay, is it the very best time for you "to seek the Lord?" You may hardly expect, hereafter, a time when there will be a more general revival of religion; hardly expect a time when more will be interested on the subject of religion around you; hardly expect a time when more of your friends and acquaintances will be turning to Christ. In all your preceding life there has been no such time as this, and it is more than probable that in all your subsequent life there will not be such another. I am almost ready to say, as to some of you especially, if you do not come now you will never come. I do say, and say it without any hesitation at all, there never will come a time when you will be plied with more cogent arguments, when you will have more assistance from the prayers and the counsels of Christians, and more encouragement from the fact that multitudes of sinners around you are turning to the Savior.

In view of these things, then, my dear impenitent hearers, be prevailed upon to seek the Lord. Do not let this golden opportunity pass, but now with resoluteness, and earnestness, an unwavering trust in God such as you never exercised before, determine to press into the Kingdom.

3. This may be the only time. I know, my friends, how prone your hearts are to set aside the force of this consideration. You are ready to say, "the same argument has been used before; we were told a year ago, ten years ago, that the only time we might have to make our peace with God, was the time then passing, and we have had many times besides those, and may have many besides this." We do not say absolutely, "it is now or never." But are you not sure that the chances in your favor are constantly diminishing? Do you not know that that we say in this regard is nearer the reality than it ever was before? Are you not now in greater danger of grieving the spirit; are not your opportunities fewer; are you not nearer the grave than ever before; and is it not more probable that if the arguments brought to bear on this subject do not move you to-day they will have less power to move you hereafter? Is it not disguised ... my dear hearers, that if some of you do not now embrace the Gospel you will never do it. What is it that is keeping you from Christ, you cannot tell. It may be pride, it may be a sinful attachment to some darling sin, it may be something else. But, whatever it is, it will have more influence to-morrow than it has to-day. The pride, or the unbelief, or the fear, or the darling sin will hold you in a firmer grasp to-morrow than it does to-day. You will be farther from God, you will be more securely bound by Satan, you will be more completely under the influence of the world and of indwelling sin to-morrow than you are to-day. You may not die, but all anxiety ... your soul may die; you may not die, but all desire to be delivered from sin may die; you may not die, but all thought of Christ and heaven may die; you may not die, but the Holy Spirit may leave your heart, and God's mandate may go forth, "let him alone, he is joined to his idols." And then, my beloved hearer, you will be undone—your doom will be fixed—you will as certainly be lost as you exist. O, do not, then, trifle with eternal things, do not put in jeopardy your immortal soul, but be persuaded that it is time, high time, the best time, possibly the only time to seek the Lord.

Let us consider.

II. Why you should embrace this time to seek the Lord.

1. Because it is your immediate duty.

I do not say it is your duty to seek God. I think you will admit that. The persons I address are among the most intelligent, thoughtful, moral, conscientious persons in the community. You know that ingratitude, disobedience, rebellion are wrong. You would be shocked at the thought of committing such crimes as these against your fellow-men. You know that you ought to love God and keep His commandments. You know you ought to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and live a life of piety. You know you have no right to put in jeopardy your own soul, and much less by a godless example the souls of others. All this you will admit, but you are not ready to admit that it is your immediate duty—your duty to-day, your duty now.

But, my dear hearer, it is not more certain that it is your duty at all, than that it is your duty at once. By every argument that you prove to yourself that it is your duty to serve God at all, I will prove to you that it is your duty to do it this moment. Is it because God demands your service? Well, does he demand it next year, or next month, or to-morrow? No, he demands it now. "To-day if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts." "And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent." Do you think you ought to serve God because it is itself eminently reasonable? Well, if it is reasonable a year hence, is it not now reasonable? What in the future can make it more reasonable than it is this moment? The service of God is just as wise, just as noble, just as elevating, just as holy to-day as it will be a year hence, or a thousand years hence. Do you think it your duty to seek and serve God because you derived your being from Him and are wholly dependent upon Him for the continuance of that being, and for every blessing you enjoy? Well, are not these obligations just as heavy upon you to-day as they will be at any future time? Will you be more indebted to God for your existence than you are to-day? Will you be more indebted to Him for its continuance hereafter than you are now? No; all these reasons are as forcible now as they ever were or ever will be. It is your duty to seek God now. It is your duty to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ now. It is your duty to say "here, Lord, I give myself to Thee," now. It is your duty, and you cannot neglect it a day nor an hour without sin. You would be shocked to live in continual neglect of the duties you owe to your wife, or your husband, or your child, or your parent, and yet you can be at ease while living in neglect of the duty you owe your Maker, which is more reasonable and more obligatory than all other duties put together. But let the past suffice. Now determine to feel the obligation of this great duty. Now determine to seek the Lord because it is your duty. You have heard the celebrated remark of the great Nelson, "England expects every man to do his duty." A higher and nobler application may be made of the sentiment, "God expects every man to do his duty."

2. You should seek the Lord because it will render certain your safety. You are in imminent peril, my hearer. You are in danger of losing your tenderness of conscience, in danger of losing your serious impressions, in danger of grieving the Holy Spirit, in danger of experiencing the Divine wrath, in danger of sinking down to eternal misery. You are like a blind man walking on the edge of a precipice, a single step may dash him to pieces; you are like a ship amid the rocks in a fierce storm, in a moment it may be swamped in the angry waters. You are safe now, but before to-morrow, yes, before another hour, you may be in a miserable eternity. But you may be placed in circumstances in which you will be perfectly safe, safe for all time, safe for all eternity. You may be placed beyond all possibility of having your conscience seared, of losing your serious impressions, of grieving the Holy Spirit, of enduring the curse of Heaven. You have only to seek the Lord, only to repent, only to believe, only to yield your heart to Christ, and you will be as safe as the angels in heaven. God will not harm you then and Satan, the world and sin cannot. The storm then may rage, but shall not beat upon you; the fires may roar, but they shall not touch a hair of your head; the very heavens and earth may be removed, but you shall be safe in the embrace of God.

3. Finally, you should seek the Lord now because you are sure of success.

How much are the men of the world to be pitied! They fix their whole heart upon some earthly object, make its possession necessary to their happiness, strain every nerve to secure it, but fail. Here is one who aims at being rich. He toils early and late. He plans, and gathers, and saves. He may even resort to the most unwarrantable practices—harden his heart, sear his conscience, sacrifice truth and honesty, yet not succeed. Here is one who is fired with ambition. He is determined to secure fame, place, power. He strains every nerve, wastes his spirits, his fortune, his health, even lays upon the altar principle, manliness, friends, country, and like the miserable Arnold, or the more miserable Davis, fails at last. Here is the votary of fashion. She is determined to attract attention, to win admiration. For this no labor, no pains, no expense is spared. But she fails, for some rival has more beauty, or finer clothing, or costlier jewelry. So she retires from the promenade, or the party chagrined and sad. Even the person who is in search of the most common and necessary blessings is not sure of success. If I could say to the young merchants who are here to-day, the young mechanics, the young lawyers, the young physicians; if I could say to all who are seeking pleasure, to all who are seeking competence, to all who are seeking health, to all who are seeking comfort, I can put you in the way by which your most sanguine expectations will certainly be realized, with what eagerness would you listen, how carefully would you treasure up every uttered word, and how promptly and earnestly would you follow my counsel. But I cannot do this. I have not, nor has any other man an infallible recipe for worldly success. Thousands have worn out their life in serch of the philosopher's stone who would turn baser metals into gold, but no one has found it. Oceans and continents have been traversed in search of the fountain of perpetual youth, but no one has found it.

But, my hearers, there are riches which are unwasting; honors which are unfading; joys which are without measure and without end; and these I can tell you how you may infallibly secure. These are the favors of God, and peace of conscience, and pardon of sin, and immaculate purity; these are "glory, honor, immortality, eternal life," and these, I can tell you how every one here can infallibly secure. If you will seek the Lord you shall find Him; if you will believe on the Lord Jesus Christ you shall be saved; if you will give your heart to the Savior you shall have everlasting life. If you will enlist under this banner you shall conquer; if you engage in this race you shall win the crown; if you seek these riches, these honors, these joys, you shall obtain them. There is no more doubt of it than that God is true; for He has declared it. "I love them who love me, and those who seek me early shall find me." "Ask, and ye shall receive; seek, and ye shall find."

And now will you not seek the Lord? Will not you who are still careless begin? Will not you who have begun continue? Will not you, young men and maidens in your life's morning seek? Will not you who have reached life's meridian, before another hour is wasted, seek? Will not you who are nearing life's evening, before the last hour is reached, seek? Beloved hearers, believe me, nay believe God, who stoops to speak to you, "it is time to seek the Lord." Time presses—time passes. O I fear, as I have already said, if you do not come now you will never come. I fear if you do not now open your heart to Christ, He will turn away and leave you in your sins. I fear if you do not now send up an effectual cry for mercy, the ear of God will be forever closed. "Now, now is the accepted time; now, now is the day of salvation." Amen.

AND WHEREAS, It is desirable that the same should be paid, and withdrawn from the market, therefore,

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer be, and are hereby authorized and empowered to borrow, on the faith of the Commonwealth, in such amounts and with such notice (not less than forty days) as they may deem most expedient for the interest of the State, twenty-three millions of dollars, and issue certificates of loans or bonds of the Commonwealth for the same, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first of February and the first of August in the city of Philadelphia; which certificates of loan or bonds shall not be subject to any taxation whatever, for state, municipal or local purposes, and shall be payable as follows, namely: Five millions of dollars payable at any time after five years, and within ten years; eight millions of dollars payable at any time after ten years, and within fifteen years, and ten millions of dollars at any time after fifteen years, and within twenty-five years; and shall be signed by the Governor and State Treasurer, and countersigned by the Auditor General, and registered in the books of the Auditor General, and to be transferable on the books of the Commonwealth, at the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank of Philadelphia; the proceeds of the whole of which loan, including premiums, et cetera, received on the same, shall be applied to the payment of the bonds and certificates of indebtedness of the Commonwealth.

SEC. 2. The bids of the said loan shall be opened in the presence of the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer, and awarded to the highest bidder; Provided, That no certificate hereby authorized to be issued, shall be negotiated for less than its par value.

SEC. 3. The bonds of the State and certificates of indebtedness, now over due, shall be receivable in payment of the said loan, under such regulations as the Governor, Auditor General and State Treasurer may prescribe; and every bidder for the loan, now authorized to be issued, shall state in his bid whether the same is payable in cash or in the bonds, or certificates of indebtedness of the Commonwealth.

SEC. 4. That all trustees, executors, administrators, guardians, agents, treasurers, committee, or other persons, holding in fiduciary capacity, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the State or moneys, are hereby authorized to bid for the loan hereby authorized to be issued, and to surrender the bonds or certificates of loan held by them at the time of making such bid, and to receive the bonds authorized to be issued by this act.

SEC. 5. Any person or persons standing in the fiduciary capacity stated in the fourth section of this act, who may desire to invest money in their hands for the benefit of the trust, may, without any order of court, invest the same in the bonds authorized to be issued by this act, at a rate of premium not exceeding twenty per centum.

SEC. 6. That from and after the passage of this act, all the bonds of this Commonwealth shall be paid off in the order of their maturity.

SEC. 7. That all loans of this Commonwealth, not yet due, shall be exempt from State, municipal or local taxation, after the interest due February first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, shall have been paid.

CITY MATTERS.

G. A. R.—A Convention of the various Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic in Allegheny county, will be held this (Saturday) evening, at Connolley's Hall, corner of Grant and Diamond street.

CHRIST M. E. CHURCH.—Rev. L. F. Morgan, D. D., will commence his ministry in Christ M. E. Church, Penn street, to-morrow, Sunday, March 31. Services at 10½ A. M., and 7½ in the evening.

PHYSICIANS, NOTICE.—Any physician in want of a good location, in a large town near Pittsburgh, can learn particulars by calling on J. C. Mattern, at his Drug Store, corner Third and Smithfield streets, Pittsburgh.

SOLDIERS' MEETING.—A regular monthly meeting of the 102d Regiment Society will be held this evening in the Hall of the Firemen's Association, in the City Building. Every honorably discharged member of the regiment is invited to attend.

THE MONUMENT FAIR.—The young ladies of the Pittsburgh Female College have responded to the call of the Allegheny County Soldiers' Monumental Association, and are now busily engaged at work in making up articles for the Soldiers' Fair, which takes place next month.

CITY MORTUARY REPORT.—Dr. A. G. McCandless, physician of the Board of Health, reports the number of interments in the city, for the week ending March 24th, 1867, at nineteen. The causes of death were as follows: Whooping cough, three; catarrh fever, two; bronchitis, two; consumption, two; ulceration of bowels, one; old age, one; gastritis, one; debility, one; eclampsia, one; pneumonia, one; diphtheria, one; cyanosis, one; marasmus, one; still born, one. Of the above, six were adults, and thirteen were children. Males, thirteen; females, six. White, nineteen; colored, none.

IMPORTANT TO GENTLEMEN AND YOUTH.—Messrs. Cree Brothers, No. 26 Fifth street, in this city, who were the first in the field with the celebrated Star shirts, which have been so popular, are now selling a new and splendid stock of gentlemen's and youth's shirts, collars, neck ties, scarfs, hosiery, gloves, suspenders, undershirts, drawers, &c., for spring and summer wear. Their stock embraces all the different makes of paper and linen collars, which are offered at the very lowest price. Cree Brothers will not be undersold by anybody in Pittsburgh, and purchasers may, therefore, depend upon obtaining everything they want in Cree Brothers' line at a low cost. Call and examine their stock.

Ristori.

Applications continue to be received by Manager Henderson from the neighboring towns for secured seats for the Ristori nights, at the Opera House. Arrangements have been made with the Pennsylvania Central, and the same will be made with the other roads, to run trains to accommodate those who desire to attend these great performances. Due notice thereof will be given.

Original Freshness and Beauty.

Being one of the first in this neighborhood who purchased a Steinway Piano (some nine years ago) I am happy to be able to state that our admiration, for the instrument has undergone no change in the lapse of years. We are now as much delighted by its rich melodious tones, as the day we brought it here, and can conscientiously testify to their unrivaled capacity for retaining for many years, the original freshness and beauty of sound which characterizes them above all others. We have never regretted its purchase. ALEX. CAMERON.

Mr. Cameron was Cashier of the Mechanics' Bank, Allegheny City, and purchased his Steinway from our friends, H. Kleber & Bro.

Splendid Church Instrument.

We have examined a large Church Organ of the famous Carhart & Needham, New York, manufacture, which has just been purchased by the Presbyterian Church of Steubenville, Ohio, at the warerooms of H. Kleber & Bro., No. 122 Wood street. This instrument has fourteen stops, six sets of reeds, one and two-third octaves of pedals, two banks of keys, three swell pedals, and two bellows pedals. Its mechanical arrangements are perfect, and they afford an astonishing variety and combination of sounds, from the daintiest echo notes to the majestic swell of a full orchestra; comprehending the most charming imitations of the Flute, Clarinet, Hautboy, Bass Viol, etc. This Organ is of the upright style of construction, to be found only in the instruments of Carhart & Needham, and its advantages as such are of great value, and of a two-fold character. First, the interior and the reeds can be got at by even the most youthful and inexperienced performers, and thus any slight derangement easily remedied. Second, the entire reeds being placed above the key boards, the removing of the front board of the instrument will increase the power and strength of tone some fifty per cent., thus affording for the small amount of $550, (the cost of the organ,) a compact body of musical sound equal to that of a fifteen hundred dollar Pipe Organ. The Messrs. Kleber & Bro. are the exclusive agents for these desirable instruments, and they have supplied the principal city and country churches with them for these many years, and in all cases to the most complete satisfaction of the respective congregations.

Criminal Court.

Yesterday morning, upon the opening of the Court, the case of Matthew Keep, constable of the First ward, who was placed on trial the previous afternoon on two indictments for extorting money, was resumed. It was given in evidence that Keep had received twenty dollars from Mrs. Bridget Murphy, as compensation for omitting her husband's name in his returns of liquor dealers. The counsel for the defense objected to the testimony, on the ground that the Murphys' did not bear irreproachable characters for truth and veracity. Keep's returns for 1866, were then offered in evidence and admitted, when it was discovered that the name of Patrick Murphy appeared in the returns of August, September and October, while in July, November and December it was omitted. The jury retired during the forenoon, and after an absence of several hours, returned a verdict of guilty. Keep was found guilty on a similar charge some years since, and served a term in the county jail. His prospects for resuming his old quarters are very flattering.

Christian Kessler was arraigned on a charge of malicious mischief, in tearing down a "to-let." Mrs. Smithbauer, the prosecuting witness, testified that she had a lease for a dwelling on Center avenue, and that Kessler rented several rooms from her. Being anxious to secure a new sub-tenant, she posted a "to-let" on the portion of the house occupied by Kessler, when he tore it down. The counsel for the defense claimed that the prosecution could not be sustained, and raised the point whether a landlord had the right to put a notice on a house without the consent of the tenant in occupation. The Court was of opinion that no such right existed, and remarked that the point raised would be considered. The jury was then withdrawn and the case postponed.

Frederick Hornberg was arraigned for the larceny of a silver watch valued at thirty dollars. Hornberg, who is a barber, occupied a room at the Etna Hotel, in Stewartstown, in company with a farmer, and in the morning the watch was missing. Suspecting that the defendant had committed the larceny he was arrested and held for trial. The jury returned a verdict not guilty.

T. P. Lyman was placed on trial for the larceny of a coat from a hotel on Fourth street. In September last Lyman was arrested on a charge of breaking into Massey's dying establishment, and stealing a quantity of clothing. He was tried on the charge and acquitted. Shortly after his release he called at the Mayor's office and demanded a coat which had been taken from him at the time of his arrest. The coat was handed to him; but before he had left the office it was recognized by a gentleman as his property, when an information was lodged against him. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

JACOB SCHIED, Inn-keeper at Sharpsburgh, has been troubled with dyspepsia, but is now cured by the Indian Doctor.

FROM the proprietor of the Mansion House. This gentleman has been troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia for a number of years. The Herb Doctor has cured him.

FROM A WIDOW WOMAN.—I called on the Indian Herb Doctor some weeks ago. I was troubled with a very bad cough, pain in my breast, general debility, &c. I told the Doctor I was a widow woman. He gave me medicine, free of charge, that has benefitted me very much. MARY MARSHALL, No. 60 Lacock street, Allegheny.

FROM one of the Trustees of the First Methodist Church, Allegheny City: I have been troubled for five years with dyspepsia and general debility. I would recommend all who are troubled with such complaints to try the Indian Herb Doctor, of 194 Liberty street. D. DAVIS, Allegheny.

Mrs. Patterson, of Minersville, can now read without the aid of glasses by the use of the Indian Herb Doctor's medicine. Andrew Kidd, of McKeesport, had six scrofulous ulcers, some of them large enough to put your fist into, is now healed by the Herb Doctor. Geo. Featherstone, Franklin Iron Foundry, has been troubled with a bad cough, difficult breathing, hoarseness, dizziness in the head, debility, &c., has gained seven pounds of healthy flesh in two weeks. Mr. F. Cunningham, connected with the glass establishment in East Birmingham, has been troubled with nervous debility, and is almost cured; gained three pounds by the Indian Herb Doctor's treatment.

Wm. Dunn, cured of nervous debility, gained nine pounds since he placed himself under the treatment of the Indian Doctor. The Doctor's office is 194 Liberty street.

Row in a Billiard Saloon.

Last evening about ten o'clock, three young men entered the Franklin Billiard Saloon, on Fifth street, near Wood. Being intoxicated, they commenced to act in a very disorderly manner, when Mr. Albeitz, the game keeper, approached them, and requested them to keep quiet or leave the hall. Some words passed between them, when one of the young men seized a billiard cue and struck Mr. Albeitz a severe blow on the back of the head. Mr. Albeitz then picked up a poker to defend himself with, when he was assailed with cues and tumblers and beaten until he was rendered insensible. The other inmates of the saloon then interfered and succeeded in ejecting the young men. Mr. Albeitz was carried up stairs and physicians sent for who attended to his wounds. His injuries are very severe, his head having been cut in a dozen different places. Warrants will probably be issued today for the arrest of Mr. Albeitz's assailants.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT LOCK NO. 2.—An accident occurred at Lock No. 2, on the Monongahela river, at Port Perry, on Thursday evening, resulting in the death of a young man named Michael Monaghan. The deceased, it appears, had escorted his sister on board the steamboat Eli-sha Bennett, which was passing through the lock on her way to Brownsville, and was coming off, when he accidentally missed his step, and fell between the boat and the lock. His head was crushed between the guard of the boat and the lock wall, killing him instantly. The body fell into the lock, but was recovered afterwards. The deceased had attended the funeral of a relative near Port Perry, and was escorting his sister to the boat on her way home, when the fatal accident occurred.

WHITE SWAN SHOT.—Mr. James Clary, who resides at Fawcett's Landing, near Cork's Run, Chartier township, while out on a gunning expedition on Thursday afternoon, discovered two large swans, directly opposite the head of Brunot's Island. He managed to get within one hundred yards of the birds, when he fired, bringing one of them down. He discovered, however, upon approaching it, that it was not quite dead, and it showed fight immediately. It soon, however, died. It was measured and found to be six feet ten inches from tip to tip of wings, and four feet from bill to point of tail, and weighed over twenty pounds. A few days since a flock of fifteen swans was seen in the same vicinity.

SPARRING EXHIBITION—ANOTHER MATCH.—Tom Sullivan, of this city, who fought and beat the Cincinnati pugilist at the island below Wheeling, a week or two since, will give a grand sparring exhibition at Wilkins's Hall to-night. Sullivan will leave this city on Tuesday next for Chicago, where he will fight Dan. Kelly, of that city, on the 5th of June, for one thousand dollars a side. Two hundred dollars have already been staked.

BASE BALL.—Beadle's Dime Base Ball Player, containing the averages of the play of the principal clubs during the season of 1866, and much other information which cannot but prove instructive to the lovers of this popular game, has been received at Pittock's.

RE-APPOINTED.—J. G. Backofen, Esq., of this city, has been re-appointed Notary Public by Governor Geary.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—At the matinee this afternoon, "Pizarro, or the Death of Rolla" will be performed. In the evening, Miss Melville, who was complimented by a large and fashionable audience last evening, will personate "Capitola Black," in the "Hidden Hand" of Ledger fame. The musical farce of "The Mountain Maid" will conclude the entertainment.

VARIETIES.—Manager Myers announces a matinee this afternoon, when Miss Florence Temple will personate "Mazeppa." The play will be repeated in the evening for the last time, together with an olio of songs, dances and burlesques.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[Before Mayor McCarthy.]

THE RIOT IN THE FIFTH WARD.

A hearing was had yesterday afternoon in the cases of Ephraim Wiley and Patrick McKenna, two of the moulders charged with being concerned in the riot at Herwig's tavern, in the Fifth ward, on the 18th inst. Witnesses testified that about eight o'clock on the evening in question, several persons called at the tavern and asked if the men who had been brought from Buffalo to work in Bradley's foundry were stopping there. Upon being answered affirmatively, one of the party said he would like to see them, as he had a brother-in-law among the number, and had a letter for him. They were then shown into a room where the fifteen Buffalo men were sitting, when a dispute arose between them, which resulted in the intruders being ejected from the room. They then returned to the bar room, where they were joined by a number of other moulders, and an attempt was made to force an entrance to the room occupied by the Buffalo men. The door was broken open, when the assaulting party were met by Mr. Bradley and five or six other persons, and a scuffle ensued. The only blows mentioned by the witnesses were given by a female inmate of the house, who had armed herself with a poker, and applied it freely to the heads of the intruders. The defendants were recognized by several witnesses as being present on the occasion, but they were not seen to take part in the affray. Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., who appeared for the prosecution, argued that under the law the fact of their presence was sufficient to identify them with the riot, it having been decided that if a party witnessed a riot and took no measures to quell it, he was equally guilty with the principals. The Mayor stated that he did not consider the defendants guilty of a breach of the peace, but as he understood the law it would be necessary to hold them for trial. Bail in the sum of $1,000 each was then entered by the defendants' friends and they were released.

ALLEGED OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Thomas Malone appeared yesterday and made an information against Jeremiah Gumbert, an ex-policeman, charging him with aggravated assault and battery. Malone alleges that he went into the Rush House on Liberty street, about two o'clock on Wednesday morning, and was approached by Gumbert, who, without any provocation, struck him and knocked him down, and then dragged him out to the pavement, where he kicked him in the right eye so severely that he will probably lose that organ. He also stated, that after he recovered himself he discovered that he had been robbed of his silver watch and his pocket book, containing twenty-three dollars. The accused was arrested, and held to bail for a hearing on Monday morning next.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Margaret Avery lodged a complaint against John Cooper and his wife Ellen, for malicious mischief. The defendants are tenants in a house owned by the prosecutrix at No. 5 Foster's alley, and, it is alleged, they maliciously tore down a door in the house and smashed the windows. The accused were both arrested and held for a hearing.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John Robinson was arrested on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by William H. Scott, who alleged that as he was passing along Pennsylvania avenue, on Thursday, he was met by Robinson, who attacked him and beat him outrageously. He had a partial hearing, but was held to bail for a further hearing.

[Before Alderman Humbert.]

ALLEGED FALSE REPRESENTATIONS.

J. G. Winsworth appeared yesterday and made an information against a countryman, whose name is unknown, and who keeps a stand in the Diamond Market House, charging him with false pretenses. The prosecutor states that on Thursday, 22d inst., the defendant exhibited to him some maple molasses of a fine quality in a gourd to serve as a sample. He ordered and paid for two gallons of this article, at a dollar and twenty-five cents per gallon, which, however, was afterwards discovered to be of an inferior quality, and was tainted and spoiled. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

[Before Alderman Albeitz.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Peter Schadd appeared yesterday, and made an information against Louis Myers, who, he alleges, attacked and beat him without cause. Myers was arrested by officer Conner, and held for a hearing this morning.

TAKEN TO HOUSE OF REFUGE.

John Johnson, the colored boy, who plead guilty to a charge of larceny, was taken yesterday to the House of Refuge by Deputy Warden Wm. Smith.

RELEASED FROM JAIL.

John Townley, who was committed to jail on a charge of assault and battery, on the 24th inst., by Mayor McCarthy, gave bail yesterday for his appearance, and was released.

Stephen Williams, committed to jail on the 25th inst., by Burgess Salisbury, of Birmingham, was also released on bail.

A BEACON OF HEALTH.—The good things of this world have each their appointed mission.

It is the mission of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS to prevent and relieve a great variety of ailments.

For twelve years its success as a protective and a remedy has been without check or drawback. It is strong negative evidence of this fact, that the efficacy of the article as a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, nervousness, general debility and intermittent fevers, has never been questioned.

As proof positive of its infallibility in such cases, the statements of public men, whose names are familiar as household words, have from time to time been given to the world.

If its reputation is not founded in facts, then truth is a shadow, and the utterances of conscientious citizens are of no more value than "dicers' oaths."

And what is its reputation? Let the progress of its sales answer the inquiry. Where twenty dozen bottles of Hostetter's Bitters were sold in 1857, five hundred dozen are disposed of now.

Could public opinion be more significantly expressed than by its unparalleled increase of consumption? It seems impossible.

The preparation has been imitated. Where are the imitators? Echo answers "Where." To the "limbo" of things lost on earth they are all either gone or going. Peace be with them.

AN ELABORATE AND DELICATE PEN-PICTURE.—Ald. Chas. R. Frailey, of Lancaster, Pa., has recently executed a highly meritorious specimen of his penmanship, in which he has justly set forth the virtues of the celebrated and popular Mishler's Herb Bitters, now winning golden opinions from everybody in this section. This pen-picture is on exhibition at John W. Pittock's, Fifth street, opposite the Postoffice. Ald. Frailey was a martyr to the worst form of that terrible disease, the Scrofula, by which one entire half of his nose was utterly destroyed. He was induced to try Mishler's Herb Bitters, which arrested the progress of the disease and rapidly restored him to perfect health. In view of his wonderful and entire cure solely by the use of these bitters, Ald. Frailey has executed, as delicately as a fine steel plate engraving, this elegant work of art and presented it to Dr. Mishler. The branch house for the sale of these unrivalled bitters is located in this city, at No. 26 Market street, and is conducted by Messrs. Fahnestock & Holton.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, March 29, 1867.

We have frequently had occasion to allude to the manner in which the banks were in the habit of arranging their quarterly statements. There was no exhibit of what they were doing in the line of discounting business paper. The Comptroller of the currency has recently furnished them with a revised and more comprehensive form, by which the public will get a much clearer idea of the character of the business called banking, and of the real situation of the institutions engaged in it. The banks themselves will be benefited by this closer interrogation, as well as the public; it will induce them to look a little to their safety as well as to large profit, as some of them have been almost entirely doing. Not the least important feature of the new form of returns sent out is that requiring such a division of the loan and discount items as to show how much commercial paper the banks have, how much out on call to outside borrowers, and mostly used in speculations of one kind or another, and how much they are carrying under the head of loans that is unproductive and valueless. There has been altogether too much lumping of items in recent bank returns. Such looseness in statements leads to carelessness inside; and thence, to fraud and corruption, the step is a short one. The proposed classification of some of the items is expected to expose and to bring to an end certain unbusinesslike practices which have prevailed, and particularly those included under the head of "cash items." Defalcations have had their origin sometimes under this head, and it is well to have it purged, so far as this can be done by the reports to the Department and by more frequent visits of the Government inspectors. It is regarded as certain, however, that the banks are very few in our large cities in which the evils referred to have any existence. Monday next is the first day of the new quarter, and the sworn statement must show the condition of the bank at its opening on the morning of that day, and the intimation is given out that if the return shows any halting, or if interrogation for fuller information is met by any prevarication, a special messenger will present himself at the bank for personal examination. This is warranted by recent frauds and failures among the National Banks, and ought, in justice to the public as well as to the sound banks, to be the line of policy henceforth. A bank legitimately engaged in business has nothing to fear from an examination of its affairs, while those that are kiteing and speculating cannot be too soon exposed.

—A New York correspondent writing on the 27th inst., says:

"The market is fairly sustained to day in view of the closeness of money and holders are making strong efforts to carry their stocks through without sacrifice. The banks have called in the bulk of their loans in order to strengthen themselves for the forthcoming report and the street has to fall back upon outside capital for support. We notice that several of the money editors quote money in fair supply at 7 per cent., receiving their information from the national banks, who for evident reasons do not care to have the fact generally known that money is scarce at this time. There is nothing of especial interest to note."

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY EVENING, March 29, 1867.

The market yesterday was active, with a good demand for the leading articles, the sales of certain articles being large at the advance we have previously recorded. Flour—The stock of good brands at present is very light; holders are firm, with a prospect of the advance being maintained. The receipts were small, being less than 700 bbls. Groceries were firm, with a good jobbing demand for the leading articles. Wholesale dealers have done a good business. Bacon was much fancied; buyers took hold liberally. The sales were the heaviest for some time past; prices tend upward. Fish—The inquiry for certain kinds was more liberal. The stock on hand was sufficient to meet the demand. Grain—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. The market was very firm, the demand being in excess of the supply. The stock on hand is very light. Holders have a decided advantage at this time. Seeds were active but not quotably higher. The sales were liberal for this market. Butter—The receipts were not large. The sales were to a fair extent at current rates. The largest inquiry was for the better qualities. The export demand has fallen off. WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, March 30, 1867.

Business, so far as relates to pig iron and blooms, remains very dull, there being no demand for round lots, the mills being in idleness. The sales of crude irons were in a very small way, merely to complete orders on hand. A report was current yesterday, and seemed to be well founded, that most of the mills would resume operations during the coming week. We give the report for what it is worth. Time will soon set us right. If the report was false, one thing is very evident, the bulk of the spring trade is over, and has gone in other directions. Most of the metal dealers have sold small parcels, which they decline furnishing for publication, as many of the lots were not completed. We hope to have something tangible for our next week's report. In the meantime we note a sale of 100 tons of muck bar at $76, cash.

New York Iron and Nail Market.

Iron—Scotch Pig is quite dull, and we only notice small sales, say 50 tons Glengarnock, from yard, at $44 00, and 250 do, ex-ship, $42 50. American has declined $2 00 ℔ ton, with sales of 1,000 tons for April and May delivery, at $42 00 for No. 1 and $42 00 for No. 2 Ex. at E. Port—it is still offered at this price. We notice besides, 500 tons old Rails, at $50 50, cash. From store, all descriptions are very quiet at our quotations.

Nails—Cut continue as last noticed, selling in jobbing lots at 6¼@6⅝c, but parcels of 500 and upwards can be bought at a lower figure. Clinch, 7¾@8c; Horse Shoe, 28@30c for 8d; Forged Horse, 28@30c for 8d; Pressed do, 20@22c. Copper, 45c; Yellow Metal, 26@27c for cast and cut; Zinc 20c, and Wrought Spikes, 7@8c, cash.—Commercial List, 27th inst.

IRON, COPPER, FRUIT AND OTHER MARKETS.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The iron trade is very dull. Orders in the hands of manufacturers and dealers are not, at the present time, of any size whatever. There is a perfect stagnation in the trade. From present appearances it is probable that the unfortunate difference between the iron mills and the employees, which has lasted now about thirteen weeks, will soon be adjusted. The operatives begin to see that the iron manufacturers are in earnest when they say there is no profit in the business at such a large difference as exists between prices for labor here and in the East, and that they are content to lie idle until the rates are made more nearly uniform. Several of the mills started their heaters and rollers in this week at about 20 per cent. reduction on former rates rates, and this will have a tendency towards a general yielding of the other branches of labor. The operatives once convinced that the mill owners are sincere in desiring to run at fair prices—such as are paid elsewhere, the great point is settled, and the men reconciled to the change. It is a most unhappy thing that in times of difference between the manufacturer and employee, that the counsels of a few demagogues are so potent as to preclude reconciliation, until thousands of families are brought to want. The extent of the evil in the present instance may be conjectured from the fact that during the past three months quite three millions of dollars have been retained from circulation by the suspension of labor in our forty rolling mills. It is a cause for rejoicing that this ruinous condition of things appears about passing away.

—Since writing the foregoing we have made some inquiry as to how the matter stands elsewhere, with the following result: It is positively ascertained that puddlers are working at Buffalo at $7 ℔ ton, while it is understood that the same is true as to Kittanning and in one mill at Youngstown. Puddling has been going on all winter at Brady's Bend at $8, and a less rate at Johnstown.

In Steel there is a moderate demand, and prices remain unchanged. The Copper market is very dull, but unchanged in prices, except in copper bottoms, which are lower. The Boot and Shoe trade is extremely dull. In consequence of a change in the tariff, Lynn Goods have gone up from 10 to 15 cents a pair. This refers more particularly to Surge and Lasting goods. Prices are unchanged. There is quite a demand for goods coming under the head of Manilla, Hemp, &c. One dealer informs us that he has at present more orders than he can fill. The Fruit market is dull, but unchanged in quotations. Choice oranges are extremely scarce. There are none of the new crop coming in, to either New York, Philadelphia or Baltimore. The Cracker market has an upward tendency, on account of the rise in flour, but as yet prices have not been changed. Carson, Darlington & Co., and Spencer & McKay, old standard manufacturers of ales, send us their cards with prices quoted as we have given them for some time back. There is but little lumber for sale in the water, and none coming to market. There is quite a demand from the yards, which are at present abundantly supplied to meet all the demands. Prices are unchanged. We have no change to note in the leather and hide market. There is a moderate business doing. There is considerable doing in the broom market at unchanged prices. Soap and candles are in moderate demand. Prices unchanged. We have no change to note in the tobacco market, which is only moderately active. In the dry goods department of business there is but little doing, as there are no orders of any consequence coming in from country dealers. The cattle and hog markets continue rather inactive—as cattle are beyond the views of buyers. Sheep are in demand and command advanced prices. In most articles of produce and in coffee and sugar there is considerable activity.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, March 30, 1867.

OIL—The market yesterday was active with a good demand for Crude. The sales for future delivery were among the largest we have reported for a long time. Dealers have evidently made up their minds that now is the time to purchase, and the result was they took hold freely, principally on speculation, as there was no Eastern demand for either Crude or Refined. The river to the Allegheny oil regions being low the receipts were very small. The stock on hand is also very limited, consequently the sales were for future delivery. Prices ruled firm with an upward tendency. Yesterday prices were 7¼@7⅝c, closing at the latter figure, with certain dealers asking 8c. The sale of 10,000 barrels of bulk, we reported in our last issue for future delivery at 7½c, was, we have since learned, for May and June. Yesterday's sales were:

CRUDE—Sales 1,000 bbls bulk, deliverable the first Allegheny rise, 7¾c; 2,500 bbls on the same conditions, at 7⅝c; sales 1,800 bbls bulk, deliverable first rise, light oil, 7c; 2,800 bbls, in two lots, first water, 7½c; sales 2,000 bbls bulk, seller's option, deliverable before the 15th of June, the terms were withheld; 5,000 bbls, April delivery, seller's option, the parties declined furnishing the figures, making yesterday's sales of crude 15,100 bbls.

REFINED OIL—We did not learn of a single transaction, for present or future delivery. Holders have advanced their figures, and as there was no Eastern demand, buyers held off, asking 23@24c for standard white, April delivery, on the cars.

LUBRICATING OIL—We note the following sales of Eureka: 28 bbls Sperm, $1 10 ℔ gallon; 36 bbls engine oil, $1 00; 22 bbls B, 65c; 10 bbls C, 45c; 15 bbls D, 35c; 15 bbls E, 30c, and 15 bbls F, 25c ℔ gallon.

NEW YORK.—There is a fair inquiry for crude in bulk, says the Commercial List of Wednesday evening, and the market has ruled steady and firm, closing at 11c in bulk, and 16½c in shipping order, for 40 @47 gravity; the sales are 4,100 40@47 gravity, in bulk, at 11c; 2,750 do 40@45 gravity, 11¼@11½c, in bulk, 12½@13c, packages returned, and 12½c, delivered to packages; 300 do, 17c in shipping order; 350 do 40@47 gravity, in bulk, for March, 11¼c S. O.; 650 do for April, 11¾c S. O.; 2,000 do 11c B. O.; 2,000 do 40@45 gravity, for April, 11¾c; and 1,000 do, 12½c B. O., packages returned. [illegible]

MEMPHIS, March 29, 1867.

The Great Republic arrived here this afternoon, and received a grand ovation, as at all other places where we have stopped. She is being visited by thousands. Our trip thus far has been very pleasant. All well. The weather is cool but pleasant. R.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The weather continues to moderate. The marks on the Monongahela piers indicate eight feet and falling slowly. Several boats are due and may arrive at any hour. The steamer R. Moore left for Portsmouth on time, with a good trip. The Spray is announced as a Tuesday Portsmouth packet. The R. C. Gray left for Louisville, with a moderate trip and engagements below. The Maggie Hays is the regular Cincinnati packet. She leaves at noon. The Ezra Porter has laid over until next week. The Kenton is receiving for Memphis and New Orleans. One item of her cargo consists of 500 bbls. apples. The mountain steamer Luella leaves this day, positively, for Fort Benton. The Leni Leoti left for Parkersburg on time. The packet for this day is the Grey Eagle, Captain Brennan. The fine steamer Belle Vernon is the regular packet for St. Louis. She will have dispatch. The model barges, Dove and Swan, leave to-day for St. Louis in tow of Wild Duck. The new steamer Dubuque is attracting a good share of attention, being an A No. 1 boat in every respect.

THE steamer Spray, Captain Smith, is announced as a Portsmouth packet.

THE towboat Wild Duck leaves this day, positively, for Cairo and St. Louis. She will tow two model barges—Dove and Swann.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Grey Eagle, Captain Brennan. She leaves at noon, and is well found in every respect.

THE steamer Westmoreland, Captain E. Evans, passed Cairo on her way to Cincinnati on the 27th. The Sherman passed for St. Louis the same day.

THE funny man of the Louisville Democrat says the Great Republic "is a success, she is." That accounts for the Democrat man making tracks for Portland on the double-quick.

THE Louisville Democrat says it don't want any persons to view the imperfections of the Great Republic. Just so. From an account of the trial trip of the Richmond, we are inclined to think that the Louisville folks will have enough to do at home.

THE fine packet Maggie Hays, Captain D. L. Hendrickson, leaves on Saturday at noon for Cincinnati. This boat is well found in every respect, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Mr. Dravo has charge of the office.

THE fine light draught steamer Leclaire No. 2, Captain J. G. Saint, has been fitted up expressly for a Missouri River packet, and will leave direct for Omaha on Saturday next. Persons going that way will be well cared for on this boat.

CAPTAIN NEAL of the steamer Richmond has concluded not to go to Cincinnati. The Captain, after inspecting the Great Republic, don't feel in a very good humor; besides the Richmond don't suit. We are inclined to think the Captain has an elephant on hand.

HO! FOR THE IDAHO GOLD REGIONS.—The fine light draught steamer Luella, Capt. Haslett, leaves for the above point on Saturday, positively. This boat has been fitted up expressly for a trip to the gold regions, and offers superior accommodations to persons going that way.

THE A No. 1 passenger steamer Belle Vernon, J. J. Darragh commander, is the regular line packet for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat was built expressly for the trade, is well found in every respect and in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE fine first class passenger steamer Kenton, Capt. J. H. Dunlap, is fast filling up for Memphis and New Orleans. This boat has unsurpassed accommodations and careful and attentive officers. We are pleased to see our old friend Williams again at his post in the office.

THE freshet in Red river has been the most extensive and disastrous ever before known, the water being six feet higher than the highest mark yet reached since the settlement of that country. Nearly all the stock along the upper river has been swept away. This rich section of the country has been converted into almost a waste.

IMPORTANT TO MOUNTAIN PACKETS.—ST. LOUIS, March 27.—General Sherman issued an order providing that two pieces of artillery and twenty muskets, with proper ammunition, shall be supplied to each steamer that ascends the Missouri river above Sioux City the coming season. Commanding officers of posts above Sioux City are authorized to increase the number of muskets and amount of ammunition if deemed necessary for the safety of boats.

THE Richmond don't work well. The Cincinnati Commercial says: The mammoth low pressure Richmond made a trial trip yesterday, at Jeffersonville. We regret to learn that her machinery did not work satisfactorily. Captain R. S. Neal being a skillful practical engineer and machinist, will soon make it work to a charm, however. All new boats experience more or less difficulty in first turning over their wheels.

DROWNED on the 28th of February, at Moscow, 35 miles above Cincinnati, S. S. Brooks, engineer of the tow boat Collier; height 5 feet 10 inches; had on Kentucky jean pants and woolen shirt, no coat. His right arm is marked with the letters S. S. B. Any information in regard to his remains will be thankfully received by John Buford, No. 50 Water street, or Mrs. S. S. Brooks, No. 135 Fulton street, Pittsburgh. The daily papers of Cincinnati and Louisville would confer a favor on the distressed widow by giving the above a notice, and calling attention to the same.

DUBUQUE, March 23.—Crossing the river with teams was ended for this season yesterday, the ice having become unsafe, and Captain Yates having completed a channel from the foot of Third street to the Dunleith ferry landing, wide enough to permit the passage of a flatboat built expressly for the purpose of conveying passengers and freight.

Not since 1843 has the ice bridge permitted the crossing of teams until the 23d of March, the date of their stoppage this year.—Times.

The Cincinnati Commercial says: Captain A. D. Scram, of Cincinnati, a growing fruit near Painesville, Lake county, Ohio. The case of F. H. Rodgver & Bro. against the Louisville and Portland Canal Company, was called in the United States Circuit Court yesterday, and will probably occupy the attention of that Court for several days. In May, 1866, the company contracted to tow four barges of hay through the canal, and, as the petitioner alleges, through the neglect of the company or its agents, one of the barges was sunk. The suit is brought to recover $7,500, the value of the hay and barge.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., March 27.—The river has commenced falling, with 7 feet 6 inches over the falls. Cloudy and cool; wind North; mercury 35 degrees above zero, indicating snow. The tow boats Sam Roberts and H. C. Wilson came down with coal for Louisville and Jeffersonville, and returned to Pittsburgh and Pomeroy with empty barges. The Richmond went out on a trial trip, but did not perform very well, on account of her machinery not working satisfactorily, and returned back to her moorings, to take a fresh start in a day or two, before taking on her furniture at Louisville.

MEMPHIS, March 24.—The weather was bright and clear yesterday, and mud has nearly disappeared from the levee. The event of the day was the arrival of the Robert E. Lee. She will doubtless be visited by thousands to-day, the levee being dry and hard. The river remains stationary, and there is no perceptible improvement in business. It takes boats nearly a week to get loaded now. There will scarcely be any improvement in business, notwithstanding the clear weather, until the floods subside.

Arkansas River is falling, with nine feet in the channel below Little Rock. White River is bank full, and falling. St. Francis River flood height and stationary.

The Robert E. Lee made a quick trip from Vicksburg up. She left Vicksburg Friday morning at half past six o'clock, made six landings, towed a coal boat fifteen miles, and arrived here yesterday afternoon at a quarter before three o'clock. Time from Vicksburg to Memphis, 32 hours and 15 minutes.—Bulletin.
